So Small Colin became a father. With this in his favour, the good & generous social-ness of Sweden assisted & indirectly contributed to the making of an album…well kind of. Even though he was home every day for a year with his child, on occasion an opening was found for creating some sound. 42 minutes of sound if we're being accurate.

Tape players were used extensively in the recording of this album.

All tracks were written, produced, performed & mixed by Small Colin (2011-2012).

Many thanks to everyone who has helped me in some way with my music. Extra special thanks to my family for allowing me time to make my noise in peace & quiet. C x
